

Subject Code	ENGL5040
Subject Title	Second Language Teaching in the Age of AI
Credit Value	3
Level	5
Pre- / Co-requisite / Exclusion	Exclusion: ENGL582
Objectives	The subject aims to provide students with theoretical frameworks and practical opportunities to investigate and critique practices in English language teaching in the age of Artificial Intelligence (AI). The subject aims to encourage students to better understand their practice as dynamically situated in an immediate school and community context, as well as an historical philosophical and theoretical one in the age of AI. The course will draw on the collective language teaching and learning experiences of the group to exemplify and illustrate issues raised. The students will have frequent opportunities to discuss teaching strategies and AI-related educational technologies which they may use in their own teaching contexts.
Intended Learning Outcomes	Upon completion of the subject, students will be able to: a. demonstrate an understanding of the relationship of their teaching practice to broader policy, theoretical and philosophical contexts in the age of AI. b. critically appreciate of range of methodological approaches to the teaching of spoken and written language, with a focus on recent pedagogical trends in the age of AI. c. Develop a methodological understanding of classroom-based research focusing on specific aspects of teaching and learning in the age of AI.

Subject Synopsis/ Indicative Syllabus	The following topics will be covered: 1. An overview of approaches, methods, techniques: • Reviewing and critiquing the notions of ‘method’ and ‘teaching style’ • Reflecting on approaches used: The place of theory, principles, beliefs, and practical considerations in teaching practices 2. Teaching vocabulary: • Techniques for teaching vocabulary • Facilitating vocabulary teaching and learning through AI 3. Teaching grammar: • Formal and functional grammars and their place in language teaching • Considering grammar instruction in the sequencing and progression of language teaching • Facilitating grammar teaching and learning through AI 4. Teaching reading: • Integrating reading into a language program • Developing critical reading skills • Incorporating AI-related educational technologies into reading instruction 5. Teaching writing: • Process and product perspectives: What does it mean to develop writing skills? • Contexts for learner writing; investigating genres; writing for specific purposes • Incorporating AI-related educational technologies into writing instruction 6. Teaching spoken language and interaction: • Informing language teaching with an understanding of spoken language and interaction • Issues in teaching spoken language • Incorporating AI-related educational technologies into speaking instruction 7. Teacher knowledge and reflective practice: • Teachers’ content, pedagogical, and technological knowledge • Teachers’ reflective practice
Teaching/ Learning Methodology	This subject focuses on the theories and practice of English language teaching in the age of AI. Teaching and learning will take the form of lecture inputs.

	Total	100%
Individual Assignment 1 - Teaching Statement (30%) Students will write a teaching philosophy statement to outline and discuss the values and principles that underpin their language teaching approach in the age of AI. The statement is not a research paper. However, students will be expected to draw on classroom discussions, lecture notes, and assigned texts. Group Assignment-2 – Lesson Plan (40%) and Reflective Essay on Teaching Practice (30%) Part I: Lesson Plan (group work) The aim of this task is to give students practical experience on how to develop a lesson plan with the incorporation of technology (e.g., GenAI). Students will work in groups. They will produce a full lesson plan which will include objectives of the lesson, student audience and context, methodology/ies (explaining why these have been chosen for the particular teaching context), tasks and subtasks. Part II: Reflective Essay on Teaching Practice (individual work) Each student of the group will do a teaching demonstration based on part of their lesson plan. They will receive feedback from their group members. Each student will then write an essay to reflect on their own experience of lesson planning, teaching demonstration, and offering and receiving peer feedback.
