

The Hong Kong Polytechnic University

Subject Description Form

Please read the notes at the end of the table carefully before completing the form.

Subject Code	SFT5043
Subject Title	Hong Kong, China Fashion Seminars & Visits
Credit Value	3
Level	5
Pre-requisite/ Co-requisite/ Exclusion	Nil
Objectives	The goals of this subject will enable students to 1. Understand the influence of culture on fashion and the development of fashion industry in Hong Kong and the Greater Bay Area of China and to highlight the forces that are currently at play; 2. Familiarize themselves with the consumer demographics and the psychographics of the dominant and the emerging markets in Southeast Asia; 3. Recognize the leading fashion business establishments and business opportunities in Hong Kong and the Greater Bay Area in China, and 4. Evaluate the effectiveness of various types of retail-marketing as well as the production facilities from apparel to accessories in the region.
Intended Learning Outcomes (Note 1)	Upon completion of the subject, students will be able to: 1. Appreciate the socio-cultural orientations in global fashion market. 2. Manage and understand the cultural differences and similarities in an era of globalization. 3. Understand the role of China in the context, the challenges and opportunities in it.

Subject Synopsis/ Indicative Syllabus (Note 2)	1. Chinese Fashion: Cultures and Styles The East-meets-West look: The influences of myriad foreign cultures and Chinese aesthetics; The impact of the rise of entertainment industry and economic prosperity on fashion trends and styles; Current development of fashion design and creative industry in Hong Kong. 2. Evolution of Fashion Retail and Marketing The new systems and strategies of retailing, marketing and e-commerce in Hong Kong and the rest of Greater Bay Area regions; social media marketing, retail distribution management, fashion communication in China; influencers campaign to satisfy customer needs; a comparison for students with their previous retail and marketing experiences in New York and Paris. 3. Fashion, Cities and their Consumers A demographic breakdown of the rising luxury consumption areas in China; development and business opportunities in the Greater Bay Area; the potential of purchasing power of this emerging consumer base; the psychographics of this population, and what motivates them as consumers and the future consumer demands. 4. Apparel Production & Technological Innovation: History and Development The production methods of garment factories in China; sustainable production in China; technological innovation development in production; visits to various accessory manufacturing plants such as shoes, small leather goods, handbags, and the like will enable students to have a comprehensive understanding of the production capabilities in China. 5. Great Bay Area Development: Roles and Opportunities of Hong Kong Understanding the development of Greater Bay Area and the strategic position of Hong Kong in the region and the globe; Hong Kong as a bridge for implementing China's globalization strategy; catalyst for Belt and Road Initiative; business opportunities of international fashion brands in the Greater Bay Area.
Teaching/Learning Methodology (Note 3)	During the course of the program, the students from SFT of The Hong Kong Polytechnic University, as well as those master students from Institut Français de la Mode (IFM in Paris) and the Fashion Institute of Technology (FIT in New York) will convene for 10 days at each of the participating institutions for an intensive seminar and site visits. The purpose is to explore aspects of the fashion industry particular to that city and that region of the world. Topics to be covered include fashion influences and trend spotting, consumer behavior, major retailers and their strategies for success, and production capabilities. Each participating institution brings a unique perspective to the program. These include manufacturing, merchandising, and global supply management from SFT, marketing of luxury goods with cultural tradition and newest expression from IFM, and product development and wholesaling and retailing from FIT. Students will participate in different class seminars, site visits and meetings with industry leaders. Cultural excursions will be arranged for the students to encourage further interchange among the students.

Assessment Methods in Alignment with Intended Learning Outcomes (Note 4)	Specific assessment methods/tasks	% weighting	Intended subject learning outcomes to be assessed (Please tick as appropriate)
			1	2	3
	3. Coursework
	- Reflective Writing	80%	✓	✓	✓
	- Class Participation	20%	✓	✓	✓
	Total	100 %
	Case study can bring about a deep understanding of the market in the region, further the interaction with students of different cultures can enhance the leadership, organization and communication skill. Written assignment is designed for a reflection in an applied and theoretical manner.
Student Study Effort Expected	Class contact:
	▪ Seminars (Hong Kong, China)			39 Hrs.
	Other student study effort:
	▪ Assignment			20 Hrs.
	▪ Reading			46 Hrs.
	Total student study effort			105 Hrs.
Reading List and References	1. Saruchera, F. (2021) Advanced Perspectives on Global Industry Transitions and Business Opportunities . Hershey, Pennsylvania: Business Science Reference.
	2. Brondoni, S. M. (2018) Competitive Business Management: A Global Perspective , Abingdon, Oxon: Routledge.
	3. Deresky, H. (2017). International Management: Managing Across Borders and Cultures: Text and Cases . Boston: Pearson Higher Education.

	4. Steenkamp, J. (2017). Global Brand Strategy: World-wise Marketing in the Age of Branding. London: Palgrave Macmillan. 5. Burns, L. D., Mullet, K. K., and Bryant, N. O. (2016). The Business of Fashion: Designing, Manufacturing, and Marketing. New York, NY, USA: Fairchild Books.
--	---

Note 1: Intended Learning Outcomes

Intended learning outcomes should state what students should be able to do or attain upon subject completion. Subject outcomes are expected to contribute to the attainment of the overall programme outcomes.

Note 2: Subject Synopsis/Indicative Syllabus

The syllabus should adequately address the intended learning outcomes. At the same time, overcrowding of the syllabus should be avoided.

Note 3: Teaching/Learning Methodology

This section should include a brief description of the teaching and learning methods to be employed to facilitate learning, and a justification of how the methods are aligned with the intended learning outcomes of the subject.

Note 4: Assessment Method

This section should include the assessment method(s) to be used and its relative weighting, and indicate which of the subject intended learning outcomes that each method is intended to assess. It should also provide a brief explanation of the appropriateness of the assessment methods in assessing the intended learning outcomes.

(Form AR 140) 8.2020